History of Franklin County, Iowa: a record of settlement, organization, progress and achievement page 409

Fred Plagge, a practical and representative agriculturist of Franklin county, owning and operating seven hundred and twenty acres of choice land in Marion township, was born in Hanover, Germany, June 23, 1864. He is a son of Fred and Louisa Plagge, also natives of Germany, both of whom have passed away.

Fred Plagge was reared in his native country, acquiring his education in the public schools. In 1887 he came to America and settled in Franklin county, Iowa, where in 1890 he purchased land. He bought one hundred and sixty acres in Marion Township and to this has since added from time to time until he owns seven hundred and twenty acres. This farm is highly improved and in excellent condition, showing the results of the care and labor its owner has bestowed upon it.

Mr. Plagge has been twice married. He wedded first Miss Louisa Dohrman, by whom he had three children: Emma and Louis, at home; and Ida, deceased. On the 3d of March, 1899, Mr. Plagge wedded Miss Lena Marz, a native of Germany, and they became the parents of eight children: Martin, who has passed away; and Emil, Fred, Walter, Metta, Esther, Wilbert and Clarence, all at home

Mr. Plagge is a member of the Evangelical church and a republican in his political views. As a resident of Marion township for twenty-three years he has been loyal in his advocacy of everything pertaining to the welfare of the city and has made some substantial contributions to its development and progress.

In the early 1930's only 10% of the farms in the United States used electricity for home and farm purposes. 90% labored the hard way.

May 1935- President Franklin Roosevelt created and signed the Rural Electrification Act. This act provided money to help farmer build distribution lines only.

March 1936- first publicity in Hampton Chronicle: "Are you interested in Rural Electrification?"

February 10, 1937- Federated REA (six counties: Franklin, Hardin, Wright, Butler, Grundy and Hancock) and Central REA (Pocahontas) were each incorporated at Ft. Dodge.

February 15, 1937- Due to prohibitive power charges by electrical plants, Federated asked for a loan of $220,000 from the REA fund. This was a new approach for farmers to build their own generating plant. This loan was granted.

March 1938- Federated (Reeve) lines were generated. "First Coop in the nation to put farmer owned generated electricity out on farmer owned lines." The first diesel engine is still in the plant. There were a total of four engines when the plant was in full operation (the last engine foundation being poured the day of the infamous November 11, 1941 blizzard?). The other three engines were removed before the plant was given to the Historical Society.

May 1938- Central (Pocahontas) lines were energized. They had borrowed power from the Reeve plant from March to May.

1948-1950- Peak period of operation and Reeve Federated then became one of 14 Coops to create Corn Belt Power at Humboldt. Reeve was used as a sub-station for several years.

1988- Plant was given by Don Yadon of Hampton to the Franklin County Historical Society.

In September 1936 a group of dedicated farmers willing to help bring electricity to rural areas in Franklin county, organized and incorporated Franklin Rural Electric Cooperative (REC). While the Investor-owned utilities saw no profit in providing electricity to sparsely populated regions, the coop's founders believed electricity would bring growth and vitality to rural America.
